

Pupil Premium Strategy Statement for Rectory Farm Primary School

This statement details our school's use of pupil premium (and recovery premium for the 2022 to 2023 academic year) funding to help improve the attainment of our disadvantaged pupils.

It outlines our pupil premium strategy, how we intend to spend the funding in this academic year and the effect that last year's spending of pupil premium had within our school.

Part A: Pupil premium strategy plan

Statement of intent

At Rectory Farm we have high expectations for all our pupils, including those eligible for Pupil Premium funding. Our goal is for all children to leave school by the end of Year 6 with a strong sense of self, having achieved good academic standards so that they are able to begin their secondary schooling with social, emotional and academic confidence and self-belief. Our Pupil Premium Strategy, together with our School Improvement Plan, supports us in achieving this based on key areas of focus.

At Rectory Farm Primary School, we understand we need to address the needs of all learners, including those that we may identify as vulnerable, but who do not receive the Pupil Premium funding. All strategies employed in the school's Pupil Premium strategy are evidence based and informed by our clear understanding of our disadvantaged children's specific barriers to learning.

Our first priority is to ensure high quality teaching so that every class is taught by an effective teacher every day. In order to achieve this, we allocate spending to developing teacher's skills, knowledge and expertise as well as resources to enrich learning.

We have identified children who are not making the expected progress, in part this may be due to the pandemic, and therefore targeted academic support also forms part of our strategy with the aim that children make accelerated progress and gain confidence as learners.

The development of self-regulation which supports social and emotional wellbeing is paramount if children are to thrive academically. As such, this strategy focuses on building healthy relationships within our school and its community. Rectory Farm's provision and support for children's social, emotional and mental health is a strongly embedded part of our school culture, values and ethos that continues to evolve to meet the needs of our children. As with other elements of our approach to supporting disadvantage, these are embedded practices at the school that have impact and will continue within the strategy.

Challenges

This details the key challenges to achievement that we have identified among our disadvantaged pupils.

| Challenge number | Detail of challenge   |
|------------------|---|
| 1                | Wellbeing, mental health and safeguarding concerns A significant percentage of pupils in the school who are eligible for PP require a high level of additional pastoral support to access learning. |
| 2                | When children enter their Reception Year, a significant percentage of children have EYFS baseline scores which are well below national baseline scores, across all areas                            |
| 3                | PP children within the school have lower attendance rates and rates of lateness than non-PP children. Persistent absences are high amongst PP children.   |

|---|--|
| 4 | Access to technology and educational materials/ texts                            |
| 5 | A significant percentage of pupils eligible for PP have limited life experiences |

Intended outcomes

This explains the outcomes we are aiming for by the end of our current strategy plan, and how we will measure whether they have been achieved

Part B: Review of outcomes in the previous academic year

Pupil premium strategy outcomes

The impact of the teacher development strategies is evident through strong teaching across the school. The continued development of phonics will remain as a focus of teacher development this academic year, in line with the school's priority of ensuring all children are readers.

The positive impact of the pastoral support through Nurture and Thrive interventions has been evident throughout the school with an increase in children's wellbeing and a decrease in the need for children to attend specific nurture groups. This has led to an evolution of the pastoral strategy at Rectory Farm Primary to provide support for wellbeing through targeted individual interventions. Support for families remains a key focus through the work of the Family Support Worker and Inclusion Lead.

Attendance is well supported through the use of strategies such as the Breakfast Club and the intervention and support of key staff. This will remain in place as a supportive strategy with the inclusion of the bagel scheme, which has been trailed since September and families have given strong feedback for.

Amendments to the strategy for this academic year (2022-23) onwards, are to put a greater emphasis on reading, tuition and the development of phonics at the school as the school recognises the importance of every child becoming a confident reader. Support for parents with trips and club attendance will continue, however this will be offered in a different way to meet the needs of families, rather than offered on a large scale.

Overall, the strategy is continuing to ensure that children in receipt of PP and those who are vulnerable at the school are a high priority. The strategies being developed are on track and having a significantly positive impact to both children's learning and their wellbeing. Where strategies had less impact on these areas, such as larger scale funding of trips and clubs, these continue to be reviewed for the coming year ahead.
